HTML PROJECT.

This is a simple website of Interior Designing where we allow user to access the design they want for their house.

Firstly we put our company name as "Just Design". In this website we have provided the user with login details where the user need to create a profile of him. Then we have provided them with many designs and also our payment details so they they can pay for the design without any confusion. Lastly we have provided the user with our contact detail where they can contact us for further queries.
